Echoes From Texas.

Beaumont, Texas, April 23, 1902.—EDITOR OF REPUBLICAN.—DEAR SIR:—I am still here in Texas. The weather is very fine. There are about 80 degrees today, but rather dry. The cotton is all picked out and wild grass a foot high. Farmers were all busy sowing rice. They are building the largest oil refinery in the world there. The boilers are fifteen feet in diameter. The Cardium, the largest oil steamer in the world was there loading with oil, and it was a rare treat to see the operation. The oil is piped there through four pipe lines from the oil fields four miles south of Beaumont. New wells are brought in every day and the pressure is as strong as ever.

Yesterday was the day of the meeting of the confederate veterans at Dallas, Texas, and as they all had to pass through this place on their way to Dallas, we had a good chance to see them. There were five trains from Georgia, Alabama, North and South Carolina, with about eleven cars to the train, and as it was stipulated the contract for cars that they should be shown the oil here, they remained here all day, and we saw much of them. One car from each state was occupied by a glee club, and as the cars run through the center of the city, they favored us with their favorite old war songs, but none of them had a familiar sound to me except Dixie and Star Spangled Banner. They all had their old tattered and torn battle flags, which they carried in glass cases with the tenderest care. I cannot describe my feeling as I looked on these, to me strange scenes, confederate officers in their gray broadcloth uniform, and, to me, strange badges and shoulder straps, etc.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, Vice-President of the Woman's Democratic Club of Northern Ohio.

"I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. I noticed Wine of Cardui, and decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax."

Female weakness, disordered menses, falling of the womb and ovarian troubles do not wear off. They follow a woman to the change of life. Do not wait but take Wine of Cardui now and avoid the trouble. Wine of Cardui never fails to benefit a suffering woman of any age. Wine of Cardui relieved Mrs. Webb when she was in danger. When you come to the change of life Mrs. Webb's letter will mean more to you than it does now. But you may now avoid the suffering she endured. Druggists sell $1 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE P. D. SMITH COMPANY,

Since writing the above, a lady of the relief corps here, has been in our office soliciting money with which to receive and entertain delegations of the "Boys in Blue," who have been invited by the post here, to come here tomorrow from everywhere. The lady said she came here from New Jersey, less than a year ago. She said she was having grand success in raising money. I shall expect to see something that was yesterday conspicuous by its absence, viz:—"The Star Spangled Banner." Not one having been seen in this city during the whole day. If anything comes of this last movement worth making a note of I will write you later on. Yours,

W. S. WESCOTT.

From Julius Ottun.

Boyceville, Wis., April 27, 1902.—ED. REPUBLICAN.—DEAR SIR:—While my wife was getting the children ready to go to Sunday school, I thought I ought to do at least one good deed, and thinking what it might be, I remembered my subscription was delinquent to your valuable paper, and that by sending you the price of one year's subscription, it would make you happy as well as myself.

We have had a very dry and cool spring here. Grass nor grain could start, but the drouth was broken by a 24 hours rain, commencing the morning of the 25. There is scarcely any wheat sown here this spring, mostly oats and barley, but more than half the fields will be put into corn. There is lots a clearing going on. Land is advancing in price very rapidly here; some selling as $25 per acre. This is a big price when you consider that its real value is no more than half that of the good land in Custer county. But Custer will see its day in the near future. This village will be improved to a great extent this spring and summer. Two or three dwelling houses will be built, and a large store building 50x60 and 20 feet high. When completed it will be occupied by Ottun Bros. The outlook is that this will be one of the best little villages along the Wisconsin Central. I read the market report in the REPUBLICAN and can say in favor of the stock buyers that they are paying from 70 cents to $1.00 per hundred better than the buyers here do, only 63 miles from St. Paul. The buyers here were paying $5.25 to $5.50 for hogs last week—nearly $1.20 less than Broken Bow.

Yours truly,

JULIUS OTTUN.

Cures When Doctors Fail

Mrs. Frank Chiasson, Patterson, La., writes June 8th, 1901: "I had malaria fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can honestly recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." Herbine, 50c bottles at Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.

RYNO

This vicinity was visited by a rain and large hail on Sunday night breaking windows and hot beds. Mr. May had one window broken. He informs that he measured chunks of ice 4 inches across after daylight on Monday morning.

After spending three years in Oklahoma, C. R. Conley exchanged his quarter section with his sister Ellen for a quarter section adjoining his father on west near Ryno. He and his family arrived last Friday; he will build a house, put down a well, etc. Thus one by one Custers county's sons are returning. Stand up for Nebraska.

DIED.—On April 26th at the residence of L. M. Pickett near Ryno, Loyd C. Rusk after a short and severe attack of LaGrippe and nervous prostration, aged 22 years, 11 months and 25 days. Interment at Broken Bow on Sunday. His father, brother and sister proceeded him to the spirit land. He is survived by his mother, brother and two sisters. He will be sadly missed as he had a host of relatives and associates who are sympathizing over his early demise.

Remember youth as you pass by, As you are now so once was I; As I am now so you will be, Prepare for death and follow me.

(Too late for last week.)

Ben Empfield is again in hard luck. He had two colts badly cut in the wire. Grace Griffith started enroute to McCook, Nebraska, yesterday to visit friends.

Harrison McOwen is again on the war path selling medicine; he carries his bango with him; he rendered sweet music at Ryno this morning.

Loyd Rusk is confined to his bed with a severe attack of Grippe. He is kindly cared for by his brother-in-law and sister, L. M. Pickett and wife.

J. H. Smith informs us that his cattle have wintered well but he has lost some cows and calves. The cows are not doing well when they are coming fresh.

The temperature was 100 on Sunday; cooler on Monday and to day (Tuesday) near freezing, spitting snow, wind blowing a gale, getting very dry, Rain badly needed.

DIED.—J. H. Dean of Ryno, at Broken Bow, April 18, of Diabetes, at an advanced age. His son, Curtis, took his remains to Illinois and laid them to rest with relatives who had passed on before, in the Cemetery near Galesburg.

The Sunday School received nine new scholars Sunday. The primary class was given the banner for having secured the most scholars during the past month.

GEORGETOWN.

Arbour Day was not a howling success, but the man who plants a tree perpetuates a blessing.

The Judge's mother moved out from Lexington last week and will occupy the Hubbard cottage, and that pretty little Hattie will be her companion.

Judge Bollitz has "got it so" in his back on account of gardening. Had the blues too because it poured rain in Kearney on Friday, and only forty drops on the Loop.

Samuel White and wife have gone to Western Oregon, and their return depends on contingent things. Albert Briggs and wife and Percy Brigam drove to Georgetown on Saturday to say "Auf Wiedersehen."

Y. J. Willard had accepted a position at the Court House in the Bow, and had gone to fill it yesterday. Well, if there is any contagious disease around there any time, it won't be in the room where Will and that pipe are found together.

The Rev. George Bailly formerly pastor in Broken Bow is now in Washington, D. C., managing an estate in the interest of Sheldon Jackson College, Salt Lake City. He will leave for a visit to her parents in England last Friday, and Mr. Bailly says he may run over in July. His address is Washington Loan and Trust Building.

R. K. Davis and wife of Oconto, have been visiting with his mother in Keyser, West Virginia, the past winter. Mr. Davis has been a great sufferer for a long time, and on Monday last gently passed to his long home, sincerely mourned by all who knew her, and greatly loved by little children with whom she was a great favorite. Mrs. Davis was about seventy-six years of age.

Profit in Cows.

Judge Reilly and Dave Hamilton returned Friday afternoon from a two days trip in the country and report winter wheat conditions almost perfect. Speaking of money in cows, the informed the club that they met farmers on the trip who were realizing seven dollars per cow per month from the sale of hand separated cream. Banker Douthett of Oquon, who was in the city on business Friday and who cashes the cream checks of the farmers in this vicinity, tells of one farmer with four cows who averages $7.40 per cow per month. Kearney Hub.

EUDALL.

Hot winds, Sunday, April 26th. Snow Tuesday, April 22nd.

Rev. Markland, preached at the Second Eudall Baptist, April 20. He is a Baptist Minister from Chicago.

The Army worms are harvesting rather early and the farmers in this vicinity would gladly disperse with their laborers, but they won't go.

Roger Sommerville and his estimable little wife is with us again; we are glad to welcome them back. Rodger is a Sunday School worker and we will greatly appreciate his help.

With the Advent of spring comes the advent of the "buy somedings to-day? Sell yours cheap" and they surely will sell you cheap enough if you will only allow them to. Ought we to tolerate the Syrian peddlers?

Where is the promise of Peace that the "Peace Convention" at The Hague convened for? As soon as the delegates went home to the different nations that sent them, then each nation represented, began greater preparation for war than ever before. Alliances, and counter Alliances are being formed. Is this the preparation of the "Great Battle of Armageddon?"

If the farmers would arm themselves with "horse whips" and give every "worthless rouser" that comes along with a nice bright shot gun onto his farm to shoot little birds, a "good sweet lickin'" it would put a stop to army worms. The birds are the natural enemy to all insect pests. If these "Young bloods" are anxious to kill something why don't they go where there is something bigger to kill than birds; perhaps their natural instinct of self preservation warns them not to shoot at any larger game.

OUR EXCHANGES

(Ansley Citizen.)

B. J. Tierney reports the sale of three choice registered Short-horns to John and Jake Kulhaunek.

Miss S. Snyder, sister of our popular grammar teacher, came down from the Bow this morning to attend the school entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moody left this morning for Grand Island. Mr. Moody expects to stop at the soldier's home during the summer.

W. H. Zimmerman, who left here about six weeks ago for Illinois, writes that he has located at Harpster, and is running a general store, also dealing in grain and coal.

Last Saturday, Andrew Sherbeck marketed 8 steers that netted him $552, and 29 hogs that brought him $556. It would be hard to convince him that farming in Custer county did not pay, as this is only a portion of the income from his farm this year.

(Callaway Courier.)

An editor doesn't really know how many friends he has until he gets married and undertakes to treat them to the cigars.

Guzzling beer makes some men fat, it is true, but on the other hand we have noticed it makes some lean—against a wall for support.

There are some big headed fools in this town that remind us of barrels. Their heads are swelled because the timber wasn't properly seasoned.

A recent ordinance requires citizens of the city of Broken Bow to plant shade trees on streets adjacent to their property. If proper care is taken of the trees after planting, some fine, restful avenues will be the result in a few years.

Dr. G. A. Fix, Gering's female physician, was called to her door the other day by a hobo who asked if she "would be so kind as to ask the doctor if he had an old pair of pants to give away." "I am the doctor," said Miss Fix. "Holy smoke!" yelled the tramp, and fled.
